70 Above

At 70above, I write the preparatory material to help CFA candidates pass the exam. Being a consistent top decile performer in my academic career and my passion for teaching pushes me to start this project. Currently, I am in the process of writing the CFA curriculum notes and summaries for CFA Level 3 with the future plan to expand the product line to include practice questions, formula bank, and preparatory videos for all three levels.

Founder and Lead IOS Developer, October 2012 - September 2016

Apps Station, Discover360, and OTR

Apps Station was the starting station of my entrepreneurial journey. Over the years, I learned how to turn an idea from ground up to finished product. I dealt with all matters related to app development, designing, launching, and marketing. Over the years, I successfully developed and launched 60 plus apps for IOS devices, which on average holds 4 to 5-star rating.
